Subject: "Holding It" Can be hazardous to your personal health & safety!

There are those situations when your work site doesn't have any restroom facilities and/or the local gas station or restaurant is not convenient to get to. If you decide to "hold it" until the job is done, you risk serious health & safety consequences – urinary tract infection, kidney stones, incontinence, as well as work related injury due to the distraction caused by a full bladder.

When faced with this dilemma, use Brief Relief. This disposable urinal bag contains a blend of polymers and enzymes that transform the waste into a deodorized gel and immediately begins the biodegradation process making it safe for disposal in any trash receptacle. Brief Relief is safe, sanitary, leak-proof, and spill-proof and can be used by both males and females.

Please notify your employees that Brief Relief is now available for their use.
